GENERAL INDEX, VOLUME 117 (1967)

Abramson, C. and H. Friedman. Enzymatic activity of primary isolates of staphylococci in relation to antibiotic resistance and phage type, 242
Adenoviruses, isolation and characterization of simian strains, 292
Aitken, I. D. Hemolysin production in young rabbits 39,
Aleutian disease, transplacental transmission of the virus, 35
Allen, R. See Leonard; also see Sims
Allen, W. P. See Officer
Alling, C. C. See Lamanna
Alms, T. H. and J. A. Bass. Immunization against Pseudomonas aeruginosa.
I. Induction of protection by an alcohol-precipitated fraction from the slime layer, 249
II. Purification and characterization of the protective factor from the alcohol-precipitated fraction, 257
Arboviruses, group A, gradient plate plaque technique for immunologic study, 222

Baboons, agents isolated from, 301
Bacillus cereus, experimental infection of mice, 307
Bacteria, oral filamentous cell wall composition, 332
serological relationships, 341
Baer, G. M. and G. L. Bales. Experimental rabies infection in the Mexican freetail bat, 82
Bales, G. L. See Baer
Bankowski, R. A., T. Mikami and T. Kinjo. Susceptibility of young Leghorn chickens to an ornithosis agent isolated from turkeys, 162
Barker, L. F., E. A. Palmer, R. L. Kirschstein, H. E. Hopps and J. K. Patt. Experimental infection with Rickettsia prowazeki in rhesus and vervet monkeys, 285
Bass, J. A. See Alms, 249, 257
Beard, C. W. and B. C. Easterday. The influence of the route of administration of Newcastle disease virus on host response.
I. Serological and virus isolation studies, 55
II. Studies on artificial passive immunity, 62
III. Immunofluorescent and histopathological studies, 66
Beisel, W. R. See Morris
Blastomyces dermatitidis, experimental infection of bats, 188
Borrelia hermsi
identification of major serotypes by immunofluorescence, 23
sequential appearance of major serotypes in the rat, 29
Botulinal toxin, buccal exposure, 327
Bovine rhinotracheitis virus, reactivation of ether-inactivated virus, 237
Brinkman, M. L. See Rouhandeh
Brown, A. See Officer
Brubaker, R. R. Growth of Pasteurella pseudotuberculosis in simulated intra- and extracellular environments, 403
Bulger, R. J. Inhibition of human serum bactericidal action by a chemical environment simulating the hydropenic renal medulla, 429
Bullock, R. B. See Snyder, 332, 341
Burdon, K. L., J. S. Davis and R. D. Wende. Experimental infection of mice with Bacillus cereus. Studies of pathogenesis and pathologic changes, 307
Burrows, W. See Leitch; also see Iwert

Candidiasis, systemic serodiagnosis, 180
Carmichael, L. E. See Kehoe
Caroline, L. See Taschdjian
Casper, E. A. See Philip
Cholera
active sodium transport in experimental rabbit infection, 193
fluid accumulation and sodium pump inhibition in experimental rabbit infection, 197 increased serum enzymes produced in rabbits by infection and cell-free toxin, 265
Clostridium perfringens, experimental enteritis with food poisoning and classical strains in lambs, 379
Coffey, E. M. and W. C. Eveland. Experimental relapsing fever initiated by Borrelia hermsi.
I. Identification of major serotypes by immunofluorescence, 23
II. Sequential appearance of major serotypes in the rat, 29
Coxsackie B-3 virus, infection in the pregnant mouse, 203
Curran, P. F. See Norris

Dangerfield, H. G. See Feigin
Davis, J. S. See Burdon
DiGregorio, D. and D. E. Johnson. Investigations concerning the transmission of psittacosis by two species of Dermacentor, 418
Dirofilaria uniformis, antibody reactions in infected rabbits, 317
Dorward, W. J. See Hauschild
Duxbury, R. E. See Sadun

Eklund, C. M., R. C. Kennedy, and W. J. Hadlow. Pathogenesis of scrapie virus infection in the mouse, 15
Endotoxin, interaction with polymyxin B, 433
Epizootic hemorrhagic disease of deer, 48
Eveland, W. C. See Coffey, 23, 29

Fedinec, A. A. and M. P. Howanitz. Gastrointestinal absorption of tetanus toxin in the fetal and newborn rat and rabbit, 215
Feigin, R. D. and H. G. Dangerfield. Whole blood amino acid changes following respiratory acquired Pasteurella tularensis infection in man, 346
Finkelstein, R. A. See Norris
Friedman, H. See Abramson

Genetic factors in vaccine-conferred immunity, 129, 151
Gore, R. W. See Sadun
Gorham, J. R. See Padgett
Gowen, J. W. and J. Stadler.
Genetic characteristics influencing vaccine-conferred immunity, 129
Specificity of vaccine-conferred resistance to Salmonella typhimurium in mice, 151
Gudnadóttir, M. and P. A. Pálsson. Transmission of maedi by inoculation of a virus grown in tissue culture from maedi-infected lungs, 1

Hackett, A. J. See Zee
Hadlow, W. J. See Eklund
Halle, M. A. See Taschdjian
Hauschild, A. H. W., L. Niilo and W. J. Dorward. Experimental enteritis with food poisoning and classical strains of Clostridium perfringens type A in lambs, 379
Hemolysin, production in young rabbits, 39
Henson, J. B. See Padgett
Hillowalla, R. A. See Lamanna
Hodge, F. A. See Stewart
Hodoval, L. F. See Morris
Hoffman, E. J. See Officer
Hopps, H. E. See Barker
Howanitz, M. P. See Fedinec

Immune response to Listeria monocytogenes in mice, effect of continuous irradiation, 109
Iwert, M. E., G. J. Leitch and W. Burrows. Increased serum glutamic-oxalacetate transaminase and lactic dehydrogenase levels produced by cholera infection and cell-free toxin in the rabbit, 265
